

What went well?

Due to spring break, there were less class commitments so people were able to finish tasks. Deadlines were a lot more clear than last time.

What went bad?

More class work in other classes than expected. Tests after the break needed studying for.

What We can improve on?

We failed to account for other classes deadlines. We will next time begin sprint planning by asking others if they have any upcoming class commitments such as tests.