

What went well?

we fixed the general flow of the application. The core components now match what we expected.

What went bad?

Predicting time was a little harder with smaller times as it is hard to account for minutes when accounting for errors

What We can improve on.

Any task with under 5 hours will have errors calculated to the closest 20 minutes, to allow for enough to not skew error charts too much.